

INQUISITION INTO OKLAHOMA AFFAIRS IS BEING PLANNED

Representatives of State Would Convene and Form Inquisitorial Body—Governor Says Martial Law Will Remain in Force Until Lawlessness Ceases if it Requires a Year

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Governor Walton's threat to prolong military rule over Oklahoma a year "if that is necessary to clean it up," assumed foremost importance today as the state passed quietly in its fourth day under martial law.

Declaring in an interview with a local newspaper that he will keep martial law in effect until county officials show a willingness to enforce the law, the executive asserted:

"I am not short of money as has been reported. I can hold out a year with the military operations at their present strength."

The governor expressed satisfaction at the progress being made by the military courts of inquiry here and at Tulsa, the only points actually under absolute military rule. Both these courts have unlimited jurisdiction under the decree of martial law thrust on the state and it is known that the scope of their inquiries into masked activities is not confined to the respective counties in which the court sits.

OKLAHOMA CHIEF STATES ISSUES CLEARLY DRAWN

Gives Orders to Remove all Burning Klan Crosses

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 19.—Flery crosses of the Ku Klux Klan which have blazed nightly over Oklahoma since Governor J. C. Walton declared war on the secret organization were ordered struck down in a proclamation issued here early today (Thursday) by the executive.

"The flery cross is the pagan emblem of fear, hatred and rebellion," declared the governor. "It now is high aloft as an emblem of fear in many public places, vitiating its encroachment upon the civil government of the state."

Declaring that the issue is clearly drawn—"our government under the stars and stripes or the invisible empire under the flery cross"—Governor Walton called upon all civil authorities and military forces of the state to dismantle the emblems of the Ku Klux Klan wherever they are found in public places.

GREAT LAND OWNER VISITS SPRINGFIELD

NEWSPAPERS OF OKLAHOMA PLAN FOR PUBLICITY

Would Place True Situation Before Entire Country

(By The Associated Press)
TULSA, Okla., Sept. 19.—An address "To the people of the United States" declaring that "the supreme issue in Oklahoma today is constitutional government or despotism" was made public tonight by a group of Oklahoma daily newspaper publishers following an all day meeting called by a local editor with a view of "placing the true situation before the country."

Publishers of several of the largest dailies in the state signed the statement.

"Governor Walton by his own acts has attempted to nullify processes of the Republican government," the publishers declared. A second declaration addressed to members of the legislature said:

"The editors of Oklahoma urge that the legislators meet immediately."

Referring to the recent events in connection with the declaration of statewide martial law, which were termed instances indicative of Governor J. C. Walton's "despotic conception of his executive powers," the public address said that "these acts create an intolerable situation in Oklahoma, one which the people cannot endure and the press cannot condone."

To Uphold Rights
The newspapers of the state uphold rigid adherence to all the laws and they are united in demanding that the constitutional rights of assembly, free press, civil courts, grand juries and jury trial by law be preserved inviolate, the state expressed.

A third statement addressed to the editors pledged legal assistance to "those editors who may have censorship imposed upon them because of their efforts to fairly represent the best interests of the state."

The legislators were urged by the journalists to convene in a special session as soon as possible "to ascertain the truth or falsity" of charges "made frequently in the past few months that the chief executive of the state had been guilty of specific violations of the laws and constitution of the state."

The meeting was called today by Victor Barnett, managing editor of the Tulsa Tribune, after conferences extending over several days with editors throughout the state.

Libel Against the State
"The Governor's declaration is libel against the state of Oklahoma," the statement charged. "There has not been any riot, insurrection, nor rebellion in any part of the state, nor have the civil authorities been defied or overthrown. No group of citizens have made a request for military intervention. The criminal records of counties and cities in Oklahoma show that there has been less crime during the past year than in any year since the war. Almost without exception the communities of the state were as peaceful and law abiding as any normal community in America when this proclamation was issued. Since August 14, when martial law was first invoked in Tulsa county the forces of the National Guard have not been used in a single instance to quell any riot or civil commotion."

Governor Walton by his own acts has attempted to nullify rights guaranteed under our constitution and to halt the lawful processes of republican government.

COMMISSION MAKES ITS COAL REPORT TO PRESIDENT

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Labor disturbances are most serious obstacles to super-abundant production of coal in the United States, the coal commission declared today in a report to President Coolidge on the subject of irregular operation and overdevelopment of the bituminous industry.

While ineffective transportation machinery was said to lend its effect to fuel shortages, the commission concludes that "the strike of the mine workers is the only bar to continuous production considerably in excess of any present possibility of consumption."

To attempt to solve the problem solely by improving transportation, the report said, would be "simply to transfer to the railroad industry, the overdevelopment now seen in the coal industry and to necessarily increase freight rates. It was estimated that the railroads would entail an expenditure of $2,000,000,000 if they set out to build up their equipment to the point where it could serve the peak demand for fuel, which would impose an additional charge on coal of about 40 cents a ton.

The alternative is better use of transportation facilities currently available," the commission declared.

Commenting upon the labor factor in recurring shortages the report said:

"There have been but two national strikes of the union coal miners (since 1915) that of November-December, 1919 cutting off some 70 per cent of the soft coal output and that of the summer of 1922, affecting the summer output of the same extent and shutting down the anthracite fields completely for several weeks."

CHICAGO'S WAR ON BEER RUNNERS NOW GROWING STRONGER

Mayor Issues Arrest-Orders Wide Sweeping in Scope

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The shooting of "Jerry" O'Connor several days ago, which precipitated several pitched battles between beer runners and is declared to have caused the deaths of George Meeghan and George Bucher at the hands of rival beer runners, has been definitely solved, assistant district attorneys declared today as they presented evidence to the grand jury investigating beer running here.

Mayor Dever's war on breweries and beer runners, caused by the death of O'Connor, was made even more stringently today as Chief Morgan A. Collins, pointing to the suspension of Captain Thomas Wolfe, as a warning, ordered the assembled captains of the city's various districts to "arrest every man without visible means of support" adding that the arrest of "Fat Fellows" with lots of money but no jobs would stop beer running.

Habes Writs Issued.
Assistant District Attorneys Pedan and Gorman, presenting the case before the grand jury refused to say how far their evidence extended in the O'Connor murder inquiry.

McCall, former deputy sheriff, arrested for the murder was out on $50,000 bond today. "Spike" and Steve O'Donnell, alleged beer kings, were discharged from custody on habeas corpus writs. Walter and Pat O'Donnell, brothers and G. Rosenbaum, an alleged member of their gang were held for hearing Friday.

John Torrio, said to be a rival of the O'Donnells in beer running was questioned but not held.

Joseph Bucher, brother of Geo. Bucher, one of the men killed on Monday night is said to have admitted today to Assistant States Attorney Robert McCall that he was a beer runner for Walter O'Donnell. He is said to have admitted he was paid $50 a week for driving a truck and making deliveries of from 20 to 30 barrels a day.

PRESSMEN OUT IN NEW YORK REFUSE TO ENTERTAIN OFFER

Subscribers Still Served by Makeshift Occasional Papers

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Steps to end the strike of newspaper pressmen took definite form today when it was announced a conference would be held tomorrow or soon after between spokesmen for the pressmen and newspaper owners. Metropolitan dailies have been issued spasmodically and in abbreviated form since the beginning of the walkout just after mid-night yesterday.

George L. Berry, president of the pressmen's international union, yesterday characterized the strike as illegal and threatened revocation of the local union's charter unless the men returned to work today was appointed head of a committee of five to negotiate with the employers after he had addressed more than 2,000 strikers in Bethoven Hall.

The Men's Demand
Mr. Berry met with jeers and hisses as he entered the hall. He proposed that the men return to work under a ten day truce during discussion. Derisive shouts of "no" came from all over the hall. The din made it impossible to put the motion to a vote.

Pickets retained at affected plants throughout the day, but little disorder was reported.

The wage scale proposed for arbitration specifies $60 a week for master pressmen, $54 for senior pressmen, $42 for junior pressmen and $33 for fly boys.

SPAIN NOW HAS A DIRECTORATE FROM THE ARMY

Campaign is Started Against Profiteering in Necessities

(By The Associated Press)
MADRID, Sept. 19.—The military directorate of Spain began functioning this afternoon at a council held in the Royal Palace. The council was presided over by King Alfonso and was attended by General Primo Rivera, president of the directorate, and his generals.

Those participating in the council declined to give any details of the meeting. The new government has begun a campaign against profiteering in prime necessities.

While it asserts that owing to circumstances, some merchants may increase their prices slightly, it is disposed to apply most energetic measures to prevent the exploitation of the people.

If profiteers do not heed the demands of the government it will increase taxes and also open the frontier to the free entry of such foreign goods as are too dear in Spain, for instance, sugar.

Before taking such a step, however, the government proposes to study the situation carefully. It is stated that it will resort to extreme measures only if it is compelled to do so if the existing laws relating to food profiteers should prove ineffective.

After the council this afternoon King Alfonso and General Primo Rivera permitted photographers to take pictures of them.

The photographers also were allowed to take snap shots of the interior of the royal palace and its historic relics.

JOHNSTOWN MAYOR EXPLAINS HIMSELF

(By The Associated Press)
JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 19.—While Mayor Joseph Cautfield insisted today that he had not issued a formal order deporting recently arrived negroes, he declared he had "advised" them "for their own safety and the good of Johnstown to leave the city" and that "about 2,000 had gone within the last three weeks."

Pennsylvania railroad officials here said the movement of negroes out of the city was not more than usual at this time of year and policemen on duty in Rosedale, one of the negro sections of Johnstown, where three white policemen were killed by a recently arrived negro, placed the number at not more than several hundred.

HANDS-OFF POLICY IN DEBT CASES IS WANTED BY LEAGUE

Decision is Reached by League Commission in Discussing Reparations Settlements—Delicate Situations Involved—Want it Understood Question Belongs to Commission

(By The Associated Press)
GENEVA, Sept. 19.—"Hands off" the reparations problem for the moment at least, was the decision reached today by one of the main commissions of the League of Nations. This decision, it is believed, will affect the entire attitude of the league assembly on this problem. It was not reached without some murmurs.

The reparations issue arose before the commission on technical organizations when Sir Henry Strakosch, the financial expert representing South Africa, alluded to the statement at the opening of this year's assembly to the effect that the league was confronted with difficulties owing to the absence of a settlement of the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts. But after consulting his French and Belgian colleagues, Sir Henry said he was convinced of the advisability of not starting a debate on this delicate subject which might aggravate the situation and hinder eventual settlement.

Sir Hubert Lowell Smith of England, deprecated allowing the impression to exist that the reparations question was outside the domain of this commission. He advocated that the commission make recommendations to the league council as preferable to a general discussion which might cause unfavorable dissensions.

Consider Article "X"
A second important feature of today's league activities was the adoption of a resolution interpreting article X of the covenant.

The commission adopted a new compromise form replacing the Canadian amendment.

It would provide that in case the council of the league deems it necessary to recommend the application of military measures because of an aggression or a menace of aggression, the council will take into account the geographical situation and special conditions surrounding each state. The second clause declares that it is the right of the constitutional powers of each state to decide the nature and the extent of its obligation to maintain the independence and integrity of territory of members and to what extent it should furnish military assistance.

This resolution is generally regarded as removing many of the existing fears that Article X would force states too far into possible military adventures abroad without the sanction of the home parliaments. The questioning of military assistance was also regarded by the disarmament commission which achieved further progress in drafting the text of a new international treaty of mutual assistance which starts from the fundamental principle that the signatories will really help one another in the event of unjustified aggression.

NIKKO HISTORIC SPOT IN JAPAN

By S. W. NICHOLS

One of the most historic and interesting places in Japan is Nikko, in the northern part of the empire and, glad to say, it escaped destruction in the recent awful disaster. It is peculiarly sacred and romantic while the surrounding scenery makes it especially the Switzerland of Japan. Hundreds of years ago pious people planted great avenues of trees, the giant Cryptomeria trees which stand in lordly array challenging the admiration of the visitor immediately on his arrival at the place. A little below the ending place of the railroad is a village of Eta with a peculiar story. It is populated by descendants of prisoners of war who had some privileges years ago when a fierce fire swept Yedo leaving a hundred thousand victims to be buried. The people of this race undertook the gruesome task and deposited the bodies in a huge pit and a temple was erected over the spot but no endowment went with it and there were no priests to conduct services. Shinto Shonin, a zealous Buddhist priest, disgusted by the worldly greed of men of his calling who were seeking for rich livings, undertook to say masses for the fire victims. In order to get something on which to live he instituted wrestling matches for which he charged a small fee and was thus enabled to carry on his good work.

Custom or law permits these people to trade in skins and leather and they offer for sale furs at tempting prices. I was sorely desirous of buying some of the beautiful furs for my home friends but had to draw the line somewhere and so desisted.

The noble avenues of trees were planted in honor of Ieyasu, a Shogun who lies buried at Nikko. Wonderful must have been the character to inspire such a work in his honor for words cannot convey a suitable description of these magnificent avenues of trees now several feet in diameter, proportionately tall and majestic in every way.

After looking at the avenues as long as time will permit we turn to the village, which is principally along a single street a mile long, and gradually ascending till it is lost in a mass of foliage. On the right are tiers upon tiers of hills, their tops covered with evergreens and their bases a mass of azaleas in early summer and of crimson maple leaves in early fall.

On the left is a rushing stream, called by courtesy a river, the water clear and sparkling and flowing over a rocky bed while beyond it is a fringe of trees, hills and open plains.

The stream is crossed by bridges in the village while above the place is another causeway across it and which is never to be profaned by common feet. Legend says that a pilgrim in the early days was traveling in this direction and came to the river, finding himself unable to cross. Waiting a time he saw an insect fly across leaving behind him a thread similar to the strand of a spider's web. Gradually the bridge was seen there was the result but only a priest or holy man may cross on it.

All through the groves and forests surrounding this place are temples and pagodas visited by thousands of the devout during the year. The Japanese word of beautiful is "kekko" and the natives say one can't suitably pronounce it till he has seen Nikko and a visit there will confirm the opinion.

Along the street of the place are shops and hotels. In the former one may buy almost any kind of a trinket that can be made of wood and lacquer and the prices are temptingly low. I bought for a dime a cane, a piece of wood ivy, rare and curious and could for a few dollars have filled my trunk with articles not seen in this country. About the hotels are many white robed pilgrims with broad hats, people who have come to climb the mountains round about and pray on top of Nantai-san.

Walking up to the end of the street a fine view is obtained. The long street of Hachishi stretches back in the distance while here is a bend of the river spanned by the bridges already mentioned. Across the river two divergent streets meet and there begins the sacred ground of temples and shrines of which there are many and some of them very elaborate and beautiful.

The ecclesiastical part of Nikko is its especial glory and well may it be so termed. Its particular beauty is in two gorgeous mausoleums erected to the honor of Ieyasu the founder of the Gokugawa line of Shoguns and his grandson Iyemitsu, the stern persecutor of Christianity.

These two shrines cover an immense area of territory on the side of the mountain. We passed through courtyard after courtyard rising all the while from splendor to splendor till the top is reached where is the actual temple in which the spirits of the dead are worshipped. Beyond are stone stairs covered with the moss of centuries and leading under the dark shadows of the cryptomeria trees to the actual tombs of the departed great ones. Nature and art have been combined here and the scene is one of entrancing loveliness.

There are many other shrines scattered through the lovely groves of cryptomeria trees and pagodas of various sizes and attractions. Some of the temples are open in front and present great attractions. Here and there one sees a big drum used to arouse the god when worship is about to begin.

In one temple there is a series of sacred shrines and the worshippers begin at one and pass along through all to the end. One morning I joined the procession and reverently participated in their worship. A girl stood at the front entrance with a long pole on which were strung the sandals of the worshippers and I had to remove my shoes, fasten the strings and hang them along with the native footwear of my companions. It was a strange and weird ceremony from the start. We had to kneel before each shrine, hear the words of the priest if he had anything to offer, pay our coins and pass on to the next. It was somewhat chilly to the feet as the floors were of polished stone or wood. The ceremony was somewhat long drawn out and I couldn't help comparing it with the worship of Him who asks us to approach Him in spirit and in truth.

A partial translation of one of the lectures we heard was secured. It was about as follows:

"The pious pilgrim will walk with reverence among these holy places made sacred by the lives of great men. Do not in your life do any man ill. Wrong doing almost always comes back on the offender as is well known. Remember the poor and the widow who has no one to defend her. Have mercy on all under you and remember that above is a great power which you can never resist. "Do not fail to give of your substance for it is always pleasing to the deities and will be to your credit with the rulers of the universe."

Now climb the hills beyond the mausoleums and still greater grandeur and beauty awaits the beholder. Here for miles stretch ranges of hills and mountains covered with lovely verdure and even on some eminence one may be above the clouds but still the entrancing view obtains, while on a clear day the snow-clad peak of Fujiama may be seen with a good glass a hundred miles away. In every direction are charming peaks with waterfalls passing over rocky beds and falling into limpid pools below. For some miles up a valley is a narrow tramway which brings down the copper from the mines of Ashino and then is encountered a beautiful winding gorge full of rocks and boulders with a series of tumbling cascades and ending in the sheer fall of Kogon which tumbles over a precipice four hundred feet deep into a pool below almost black from the deep shades which surround it.

Beyond the precipice is the lake of Chuzenji about which pilgrims gather and summer homes have been erected and beyond this one may walk for days among flowers, rocks, cascades and all manner of lovely features. Does any one wonder I fell in love with Nikko?

MANY IMPROVEMENTS MADE IN WHITE HALL

Business District Shows Progressive Tendencies in Various Ways—Other News from White Hall

White Hall, Sept. 20.—Some of the lesser improvements in the business section of town give an idea of the progressive tendencies of this community. Starting at the lower end of the business street is the work of converting the front section of the Hudson garage into a filling station. To be used by the Richardson Oil Co. The driveways and all surroundings are to be put in first class condition.

Moving north past the post office, where the sign and the outside boxes have been given a coat of paint to satisfy the demands of W. P. Lindsey for a better appearance about the Stocks hotel, it is only a few doors to the restaurant of William Wyatt, occupying the former location of the Carmean barber shop, and the latter has been put out of business for want of a location.

At the northwest corner of Main and Sherman streets is the attractive new Webster Variety store in their remodeled quarters. purchased for the purpose, and which has been converted into the most attractive store in town for the shoppers of small articles. To the east on Sherman street is the Lyons restaurant, Harry and Charley, new converts to the business field, and jumping the Simonds meat market comes the remodeled Simonds store room that is to become a pool and billiard hall on a handsome scale by Samuel Hudson. This is immediately across the street from the Whiteside-Griswold memorial library that is nearing completion. Further east is the vacant Winn store room that has a number of prospective renters. For various purposes, one being a printing shop.

Coming back and moving north on Main street past the Grange block is the Brannan White side store room that is to become the new location of the Clark & Rose second hand store. There are no changes of note until we jump across the street to the old opera house building, where the Pearce grocery is making room for an enlargement of the Woman's Toggery, in bringing a portion of the stock of the latter from the north room into the south room. Upstairs this structure has been greatly remodeled as to light, sanitation and generally improved appearance for inaugurating the business of the Chester knitting mills. The first pair of socks has already been turned out and is on exhibition at the White Hall National bank.

Coming south along the west side of Main street are among the leading business concerns, sturdy in character, and they afford no changes from their usual healthy and inviting appearance. All the way along that stretch of stores no change is noted until toward the south end is the Steckel cash market, which recently acquired the Webster variety store stand, and will utilize that building, leaving the corner location to be used by C. H. Lucht for a wholesale bakery. In this stretch of unchanging things may be mentioned, however, one professional change in Dr. A. C. Rich, located over the White Hall National bank, having sold his equipment to Dr. H. C. Haynes of Ramsey, Ill. Dr. Rich has made no arrangements to leave White Hall.

At a congregational meeting of the Presbyterian church next Sunday the resignation of Rev. Lee A. Hanchett as pastor will be considered. Rev. Mr. Hanchett tendered his resignation last Sunday, and the pastoral relation will be dissolved by the Alton Presbytery which will be in session at Chester Sept. 24 and 25.

Rev. Mr. Hanchett will go back east, he having come west in May, 1919, and after serving one of the churches at Alton for 18 months reluctantly accepted a call to White Hall. Here he has given his very best efforts in and out of the church in developing the youth of the community along educational and athletic as well as spiritual lines.

He introduced the idea of the Daily Vacation Bible school, which has been since held each summer except this year, when it was taken up at Roodhouse instead of White Hall. He supported high school athletics with his exceptional attainments along this line, and to him is due a large amount of the credit for bringing to a realization the erection of the high school gymnasium, since which time local high school athletics have attained a prominence never before even dreamed of as being possible. His wife is a valued helpmate in his work as a minister, and wherever they go, they will carry the general well-wishes of the community.

There is a virile and active sentiment in White Hall on all subjects of civic policy, and much headway has been made in crystallizing sentiment on a water supply project on a huge scale. Engineers performed the field work last week in the vicinity of the present city reservoir, and it is probable that their findings will favor a reservoir adjacent to the present one. Sentiment is united on obtaining the best supply of water regardless of cost, even if it is necessary to abandon the electric proposition, for which bonds in the amount of $54,000 were voted last spring. The city council has taken no action with reference to selling the municipal electric bonds, having a year left in which to act, and they are moving cautiously in view of the pending water measure. Another subject of increasing interest is the provision of camping facilities for tourists close in, which are afforded in the grounds known as the "Vedder Place" on North Main street, providing sufficient acreage for a combination movement for playgrounds and tourist camping. It is understood that the property is now available at an attractive figure, and there should be no delay in providing these things by the city council.

R. J. Kenyon, resident engineer of the state highway commission, confirms newspaper statements regarding the lettings on September 26th. One contract will be for the stretch from White Hall south to Belltown, connecting the Seminary and Apple Creek bridges now under construction, and it is the belief that this paving will get under way this fall. Greene county will get another stretch south of Kane. Nothing is doing between White Hall and Roodhouse, because of the subways under the railroad tracks being a stumbling block to all local efforts to get action by the railroads to get these subways under way, a matter that is constantly in the mind of C. A. Ruckel, president of the White Hall chamber of commerce.

WAR TIME FINANCE PLANS EXPLAINED

Purpose of Finance Corporation Is Outlined by Washington Writer—Its Relation to Agricultural Credits Given.

(By Edward Nelson Dingley)
WASHINGTON, D. C.—The original purpose of the War Finance Corporation was the lending of financial assistance to persons, firms, corporations or associations conducting business in the United States "whose operations shall be necessary or contributory to the prosecution of the war," such assistance to be extended only where the applicant was unable to obtain loans thru ordinary banking channels. Shortly after the signing of the armistice, the corporation discontinued the consideration of advances for this purpose.

The capital stock of the corporation was fixed at $500,000,000, all subscribed and paid in by the United States. The corporation was authorized to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding three times its paid in capital, such bonds to mature not less than six months nor more than five years from their date of issue, and to be a first lien on the corporation's assets. In April, 1919, the corporation issued $200,000,000 in one year 5 percent bonds. They have been retired.

The corporation consists of the Secretary of the Treasury, the Secretary of Agriculture and five directors appointed by the President.

The War Finance Corporation began business in April, 1918, and the armistice was signed the following November. Between those dates loans had been made to cattle growers and producers of agricultural products. The loans were repaid.

An amendment of the Victory Liberty loan act of March 3, 1919, authorized the corporation "in order to promote commerce with foreign nations thru the extension of credits," to make advances to (1) any person, firm, corporation or association exporting domestic products to foreign countries; (2) any bank, banker or trust company making advances for the exportation of domestic products. Such advances cannot exceed $1,000,000,000 at any time; and may be made until the expiration of one year after the termination of the war.

Fearing that the cessation of exports for military purposes following the armistice might result in the decline of exports of domestic products, Congress empowered the corporation to make these advances. The corporation borrowed of the Treasury and the Treasury in turn borrowed of the people.

In 1920 Secretary of the Treasury Glass, in advocating a cessation of the export operations of the corporation, said: "Individuals or firms have not been unable to obtain funds with which to finance exports. Exports this year (1920) are going forward at the rate of over eight billion dollars, approximately 50 per cent agricultural products. Borrowing countries of Europe lack satisfactory securities. This is the sufficient obstacle. This is the obstacle the government of this country can not remove."

In March, 1919, the corporation advanced to the Director General of the railroads $50,000,000, and to the railroads themselves $65,994,830. When Congress assembled these loans were repaid by an appropriation. The corporation invested heavily in government securities. When the armistice was signed, the War Finance Corporation owned more than $590,000,000 worth of government securities, bonds and Treasury certificates. It showed a book profit of $12,500,000.

The corporation did not begin to advance funds for the export of domestic products until December, 1919. From that date to November 15, 1920, the corporation had made loans for this purpose amounting to $46,347,654, of which $2,855,146 had been repaid, leaving a net advance of $43,492,508. These advances were made for exports of agricultural implements, condensed milk, cotton, electric equipment, grains and locomotives. The general powers of the corporation expired in May, 1919. The special export-loan powers expired one year after the termination of the war.

Between November, 1918, and November, 1919, the corporation continued to exercise its special export-loan powers until "there was a certainty of no further need in that direction," in the words of Secretary Glass. May 10, 1920, the corporation suspended all further advances in aid of exports. The war was over a year and eight months, but the President had issued no proclamation to that effect.

Secretary Glass opposed the Treasury redemption of government securities or further borrowing to aid the corporation in making further advances. He recommended suspension of all activities by the corporation. The power to suspend and liquidate was sustained by Attorney General Palmer.

Totals loans of the corporation outstanding November 15, 1920, were $119,231,065, some of the loans being: railroads, $52,828,210; public utilities, $21,132,595; industrial corporations, $973,594; cattle loans, $75,738,558; locomotives, $5,000,000; electric equipments, $10,796,537; International Harvester, $4,000,000; export bankers, $6,078,872; foreign credit corporations, $23, 695,970. The earnings on the books were $16,214,272.

Thus the corporation was a government agency created to advance loans and credits that the government could not advance without borrowing more money, and possibly exceeding the powers of the Treasury.

Over the President's veto, Congress January 1, 1921, directed the Secretary of the Treasury to revive the activities of the corporation with a view of assisting in the financing of the exportation of agricultural and other products.

In July, 1921, the corporation financed for a cotton association the sale of 100,000 bales of cotton for export, the cotton to be held in American warehouses until a proper time for export. Later 1,000,000 bales were financed in a similar manner. This opened up a new plan which was followed by many concerns.

In August, 1921, Congress gave the corporation power to extend this sort of credit. It empowered it to advance credits to dealers in, handlers of, agricultural products, including co-operative associations, thus financing the carrying of such products until they could be exported. Advances were made for one year, with discretion by the corporation to extend for three years. Such advances were made to banks, trust companies and live stock associations.

The corporation appointed committees in the principal agricultural and live stock sections to consider applications. Companies were formed in the West to make live stock loans in co-operation with the War Finance Corporation.

November 15, 1921, the corporation had made advances amounting to $119,082,783-$50,118,076 to agriculture alone, and $63,700,000 to co-operative associations.

November 30, 1922, a year and 11 months after the Corporation was revived, the approved advances amounted to $433,447,000, $172,877,000 of it going to co-operative marketing associations. From January, 1921, to November 30, 1922, more than $53,344,000 in loans were approved by the corporation to assist in exporting farm products. Of this $38,654,000 were actually paid.

The work of the corporation during the last two years has restored confidence in agricultural sections and rescued many producers from despair, if not ruin. In April, 1922, the demoralization of 1921 had disappeared and confidence was restored.

In June, 1922, Congress extended to June 30, 1923, the period during which the corporation might make advances. March 4, 1923, the Federal Intermediate Credits bank became a law, taking the place of the War Finance Corporation in the matter of long-time agricultural credits. The Intermediate Credits bank law amended the War Finance Corporation law by extending the time for the corporation making advances to Feb. 29, 1924. The power to issue notes or bonds may be exercised any time before January 31, 1927, but no notes or bonds shall mature later than June 30, 1927. The same act provides for the winding up of the affairs of the corporation, beginning April 1, 1924.

It is safe to say that the War Finance Corporation during the last year and a half, has saved many farmers, agricultural associations and banks from bankruptcy.

GERMAN EMIGRATION
Munich, (AP) Leading Bavarian newspapers have launched a campaign opposing the proposed emigration of Bavarians to Canada, unless there be "a cessation of anti-German and war guilt propaganda in Canada."

Answering statements published recently which quote the Canadian government as offering free transportation to Central European farmer - emigrants, the press attacks the project, alleging that Canada, because of unemployment and the present price of grain, is little more attractive than their homeland to the farmers.

WORK HAS STARTED ON MOFFAT TUNNEL

Denver, (AP)—With the bonds financing the construction of the Moffat tunnel through the Great Divide delivered to the New York buyers, the actual work on the big bore already has been started. Despite the fact that prospective bidders for the construction work were granted a delay in which to prepare their estimates, work at the tunnel site has not been postponed, according to President William P. Robinson of the tunnel commission.

"The tunnel will be well underway before snow flies," President Robinson said. "Eighty men are employed, about 40 at each portal. The camp is nearing completion; a water system is being installed which will be adequate for all purposes, and a preliminary power plant is being set up. All of these works are to be taken over by the successful bidder, and will have saved him time in his start before winter sets in. After that the work can proceed without hindrance."

Electric power lines will be extended to both portals of the projected tunnel before October 15, instead of November 15, as planned originally, Mr. Robinson said. Duplicate lines which will carry current for 4,000 horsepower are being run so that there will be little likelihood of interruption of work from that source.

George Stuart of Winchester transacted business in the city yesterday.

TO DISCUSS FATE OF C. P. IN CITY FRIDAY

Important Meeting of Representatives of Various Cities Will Be Held at Chamber of Commerce—Sale of Road Postponed, Gives Friends Room for Hope

Steps that may lead to the saving of the C. P. & St. L. railroad are to be taken at an important meeting to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms here at 11 o'clock Friday morning. Representatives from Peoria, Springfield, Jerseyville and other cities on the route will gather here in conference with the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce, the C. P. & St. L. committee, bank representatives and attorneys in an effort to formulate some plan of salvaging the road.

Word has been received by Attorney J. J. Reeve that the date on which the road is to be sold has been postponed until Nov. 8, a matter which gives the friends of the C. P. much satisfaction. However, the attorney general's petition for intervention has been denied.

Among those who will be in the city Friday for the discussion are: A. R. Field, business manager of the Peoria Association of Commerce; Herbert Tuohy, traffic commissioner in the Springfield Chamber of Commerce; Attorney J. B. Searcy from the Attorney General's office at Springfield; and Mr. Pindell of Peoria, who has been to Washington in the interest of the C. P., and who will probably lead the discussion and conference here.

The four banks of the city will be represented by M. F. Dunlap, E. E. Crabtree, H. J. Rodgers, James Elliott and Frank Heintz. The local C. P. & St. L. committee consists of A. R. Eyre, chairman, Charles Mackness, C. A. Fiedler, Fred Berg, W. D. James and Attorney J. J. Reeve. The meeting Friday will open at 11 o'clock and will adjourn at noon for the Rotary luncheon, after which the delegates will re-assemble at the Chamber of Commerce for further conference.

"SPEC" O. K., WORD FROM BEARDSTOWN

A rumor, persistent and incanny, pervaded the city last night that "Spec" Henderson, well known resident of Beardstown, had been killed in Beardstown. Investigation by Journal reporters, county officers, and citizens failed to confirm the rumor, and still it persisted. A call to the Cass county coroner at Beardstown finally brought the news that that individual had seen "Spec" only half an hour before and that the latter was alive and well. A rumor current in Beardstown that he had been hurt was unfounded. In fact "Spec" proved to be in a healthy and normal state an all efforts to make him otherwise were absolutely futile.

The coroner was told to convey word to "Spec" that Jacksonville citizens were mighty glad it wasn't so, and that they hadn't really believed the rumor anyhow.

JAPANESE BUY TRACTORS.
Tokio, (AP)—Tractors, chiefly American made, are supplanting hand labor on the farms of Western Japan. There are now 13,000 of these on farms in Okayama alone, where farm labor is scarce.

The government gives a small subsidy assist in the purchase of these machines, and it is contemplating a larger one in line with its policy of assisting agriculture with a view to making Japan self-supporting in the matter of food.

POLICE NOTIFIED TO SEEK RUNAWAYS

Local police have received a telegram from Greenville, Ill., warning them to be on the lookout for two runaway boys. Chief Kiloran received the message yesterday and the lads are supposed to be headed toward Jacksonville. One is dressed in a light suit and the other is wearing a blue shirt and dark trousers.

The last names of the boys are Clare and McKee. They are 15 years old. The telegram was signed by M. L. McKee, evidently the father of one of the boys. Police are asked to hold the lads if they find them.

Some time ago city cops picked up four boys from Greenville, who had run away from home. It is the opinion of some of the police that the two runaways have been here before, in the party of four who were sent back some time ago.

ZACHARY CASE GOING TO SUPREME TRIBUNAL

Attorneys Are Preparing for Great Legal Battle in Springfield Next Month—Robinson Will File Bill of Exceptions to Statement of Defense.

The brief and abstract of evidence in the case of the People vs. Samuel T. Zachary has been filed with the state Supreme court by Zachary's attorneys, William N. Hairgrove and W. T. Wilson. It will be remembered that Zachary was sentenced in Scott county on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the shooting of Luther Crawford. The case was appealed to the Supreme court on a writ of error and will come up for hearing during the October term.

State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson is now at work preparing a brief and abstract of evidence to be filed by the prosecution, and this material must be in the hands of the court by October 2. Mr. Robinson has received, according to law, the brief and abstract of evidence prepared by Zachary's attorneys, and is preparing to file with the court a bill of exceptions. The work involved in taking a case to the Supreme court of the state is enormous and requires several weeks.

The abstract of evidence filed by the Zachary interests is a good sized volume, containing 214 pages of proceedings in the trial in Scott county, and also an index. The brief contains fifty-five pages, including a statement of the case and arguments on the points of law involved. Several copies of these books had to be made and sent to the court and to the State's Attorney.

Zachary's attorneys claim in their information filed with the court that the circuit judge trying the case in Scott county had erred in the admission of evidence and his instructions to the jury. If the Supreme court upholds the sentence imposed in Scott county, Zachary must go to the penitentiary. However, if the court holds that errors were committed in the manner mentioned, a retrial of the case will occur in Scott county. Zachary took a change of venue from Morgan county and according to the law, he cannot take another change. Consequently, if the case in the Supreme court is decided in his favor, he must stand trial again in Winchester.

Wilson and Hairgrove, Zachary's attorneys, state that they will make oral arguments before the Supreme court, and the same plan will be followed by counsel for the state. Mr. Robinson will be assisted in the case by counsel from the Attorney General's office at Springfield. Preparations are being made for one of the most important legal battles that has concerned this county for some time.

BAPTIST CHURCH MEETINGS TONIGHT

Dr. Hardesty has a number of projects to put before the board, which it is believed will prove of great value in carrying on the work of the church.

At the same hour this evening and in another part of the church, the Ready Males' Sunday school class will have a supper and business session. This class is one of the most active in the school and a number of matters will be up for discussion.

The Baraca Bible class, taught by C. H. Storer, will also hold a business meeting at the church at 8 o'clock this evening. Every member is urged to be present, as questions of vital interest to the class will be considered.

WORK OF YEAR BEGINS AT ILLINOIS COLLEGE

Enrollment Is Larger Than Ever Before—Address of Welcome Made by Pres. Rammelkamp at First Chapel Exercise—Faculty Changes Announcement

The 95th year of Illinois college was begun yesterday morning by chapel at 9 o'clock. All the old students seemed happy to be back and renew the old acquaintances and tasks, and the new ones were also quite ready.

The opening number on the chapel program was an organ solo by the college organist, Frank Collins. Dean S. H. Scott gave a very interesting talk, full of information for both old and new students and announcements concerning further registration and changing of classes were made at that time.

Dr. Thomas Smith gave an address of welcome extended from all the churches of the city to the students. Dr. Smith gave a few valuable suggestions on the matter of making friends, choosing the proper sort and the places to choose them.

Prof. Garnet Hedges sang with fine effect "Be Strong."

Dr. Rammelkamp then gave an address of welcome and spoke of the changes at the college since last spring, in the college buildings, arrangements of classes and in the personnel of the faculty. He also spoke of the registration and students in general. Dr. Rammelkamp stated that the college could this year, as in previous years of its existence, report a larger enrollment than ever before. The number of freshmen this year easily reaches the limit which last year was fixed at 150.

This is the first year that the registration has been limited and the quality of prospective students has been closely scrutinized this year, in order to make certain that the students are worthy of the advantages offered before admittance was granted.

Scholarships were refused to a number of applicants when investigation proved them unworthy. The enrollment at present shows 310 students, which is 49 more than were enrolled at this time last year. There are a number of other students on the way here or expecting to come soon who have not yet been enrolled.

There are several new faculty members this year also, probably a larger number than the college has before known at one time. These changes are not due to any dissatisfaction or unrest but rather to the expansion of college affairs. New departments have been established and new instructors have come to fill the places made in this way. There are eight new faculty members and one former member who has returned after study in Europe.

Faculty Changes

Arthur G. Melvin is the new instructor in Psychology and Education. Mr. Melvin is taking the place which was vacated by Mr. Swift. Other new faculty members are:

Miss Emily N. Wadsworth is to teach Greek and Latin; Miss Allee M. Smith will take Miss Mayer's place in the department of Modern Languages; George Snyder is to be a new instructor in Physics and Mathematics; Garnet Hedges comes from the Musical college in Des Moines, Ia., to take the place in the voice department, formerly occupied by Mr. Lovejoy; Rev. Andrew H. Rule will take the place which was left vacant early last fall by the death of Dean Hayden; Miss Elizabeth Peck is another new member of the music department, being a teacher of piano and public school music. Miss Peck comes from the American Mission school for girls in Cairo, Egypt; Harry D. Wolfe will be a new instructor of Economics and Social Science; Miss Raetzmann, who has classes in German and French is a former member of the faculty who has returned to the United States and Illinois college after study in Europe, particularly in Germany and France.

EXPECT CROWD AT CONCERT TONIGHT

The first concert appearance of the Community Band on the square will occur this evening. A platform will be erected today at the northwest corner of the square. A large crowd is expected in the business district tonight to hear the varied program which the band will present.

This is the first of a series of concerts which the band will play during the fall season. The next concert will be given at Nichols Park Sunday afternoon.

A program that is calculated to please the musical taste of everyone has been prepared by the director, J. Bart Johnson. It consists of popular and classic numbers and will be rendered with all the skill that months of training have given to the forty members of the band.

MRS. YORK WILL MAKE VISIT TO WEST

Mrs. Lucy York of 1400 West Lafayette avenue left last night for Chicago where she will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS IS READ AT I. W. C.

Dr. J. R. Harker Sends Letter from California to be Read at First Chapel Service—Many Friends of College Present

The opening chapel service at Illinois Woman's college was held at 9 o'clock yesterday morning and was attended by a large number of friends of the college. A full assemblage of students greeted the college officials and faculty, as the registration has been especially heavy. Miss Florence Kirby of the College of Music Faculty played a group of piano selections. Director H. W. Pearson presided at the organ and the exercises with the usual impressive order of service. Rev. George E. Stieney and Rev. M. L. Pontius made brief addresses to the students, welcoming them to the churches of the city and the various local activities.

The feature of the occasion was the reading by Dean Austin of President J. R. Harker's annual address to the students, which was written from Berkeley, Calif. The letter containing the address came as a surprise to the college people, and was delightfully received. Dr. Harker wrote:

Berkeley, California, September 14, 1923.
Dear Woman's College Friends, and Faculty, and Students, Old and New:

Mrs. Harker and I send you loving greetings and a hearty welcome at the beginning of another College year. We greatly miss our long time privilege of a personal greeting for everyone, but we will surely be with you next Wednesday morning in spirit as you gather in the College chapel. Happy memories of other years and the opening chapel service crowd on our hearts and minds, and we will sing with you the doxology and the Gloria; and join with you in the Faith of the Fathers, and the loved and inspiring scripture verses. We welcome you, one and all, to our College Halls. We trust that this will be the happiest, the most helpful year the College has ever had, and that for every one of you it will be a year of highly realized opportunity. I like to think of Dr. Jowett's characterization of a college—a place of learning; of friendships, and of religion.

And all these our Woman's College is. You will find learning here. It is in the faculty, in the classrooms, and still more in the direct personal contact which the College offers. You will find it in the library, where you can enjoy communion and receive inspiration from the master minds and choicest spirits of all the ages. You will hear Wisdom calling, and Understanding putting forth her voice, in every corner. You will surely find the college a place of Learning. And Friendships—delightful, strong, helpful, inspiring—these are especially the privilege of college days and college associations. Our lives are rich and strong and happy and helpful, just in the measure of quality of our friendships. As we meet our college women all over the country, our hearts are made glad by the unceasing note of thankfulness and pleasure that we everywhere hear because of the life-long, happy and helpful friendships which were formed in college days. We hope this will be a fruitful year for all of you in this respect.

And the Woman's College is a place of Religion. Everywhere there pervades the place a happy sense of God our Father and Jesus Christ, His son, our Saviour and Lord. The College helps us always to keep our lives rightly balanced; to see things in their right perspective. Even Learning, Friendships, change, and our friends pass, but the word of our Dwelling Place in all the ages, a sure Refuge in every time of storm. At the Woman's College we know God through Christ, our Saviour, and we learn to anchor our lives in Him, so that, come what may of life's changes and vicissitudes, our hearts are not troubled, because we believe in God. This sure founding of the heart and life in God and Christ is the greatest gift the Woman's College has to bestow. We pray it may come to every one of you this year above all years.

I learned by heart a little while ago, a few lines by John Oxenham, which I want to suggest as worth your daily thinking:

To every man there cometh,
A way, and Ways, and a Way.

And the High Soul climbs
The High Way, And the Low Soul gropes the Low;
And in between, on the misty flints,
The rest drift to and fro.

But to every man there openeth,
A High Way and a Low.

And every man decideth the Way his soul shall go.

The Illinois Woman's College is a Royal Highway, up which, thank God, hundreds of High Souls have climbed, through loftiness of purpose, to high ability, and strength of womanly character, and great nobility and helpfulness in every relation in life to which they have been called. It is our abounding joy that we find such high-souled Woman's College women in every place we visit.

To climb this High Way is now your privilege. We pray it may be a year of "climbing" for every one of you gathered at the College this year. The College will provide every possible help

WESTMINSTER CLOSSES SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Records Show Finances in Excellent Condition—Members Ask Dr. Smith to Continue as Minister.

A meeting of the membership of Westminster church was held Wednesday night, when the finances of the past year were discussed and the budget for the coming year were presented by the trustees. The congregation represented at the meeting voted unanimously to ask Dr. Smith to continue as pastor of the church for the coming year. A committee was appointed to confer with Dr. Smith and he will give his answer from the pulpit next Sunday.

The business session was held after a family supper served in cafeteria style and a short service of prayer. Dr. Smith talked briefly about the work of the church and then withdrew while the business meeting was held.

Mrs. C. B. Massey, the treasurer of the church, presented a report showing an excellent financial condition, with all expenses provided for and some surplus in the treasury.

Mr. Frank Elliott, who has long been connected with the board of trustees, made a report for that body with especial reference to the budget for the coming year.

Both of the reports gave proof that the church is operating on a good financial basis. Reports presented at other times have indicated clearly activity in all departments of the church work.

SECOND PLACE FOR REDS LOOK BETTER

Cincinnati strengthened its hold on second place today by winning both games of a double header from Philadelphia 1 to 0 and 6 to 5. In the second game, Donohue was hit hard in two innings but won the game by his own long hitting, driving in three runs in the fourth with a three bagger and the winning tally in the eighth with a double.

Split Honors With Dodgers—First Game to Dodgers 5 to 1—Keene Ejected from Game

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Brooklyn and Chicago broke even in a double header today, the visitors winning the first game 5 to 1 and the locals winning the second 4 to 3 in ten innings. In the initial game Brooklyn concentrated its attack in two innings with Victor Keene on the mound while Chicago was unable to hit Dazzy Vance effectively. Keene argued Umpire Powell's decisions on strikes and balls and was ejected from the game in the seventh inning.

Chicago played an uphill game behind Grover Alexander in the second game, tied the count in the ninth inning and won in the tenth after Stutz had opened with a double and scored when Johnson threw Adams' hit into the visitors' dugout. The scores:

GENTLEMAN'S STAND IS TAKEN BY FIRPO

Disregards Protests of Friends and Others That He Was Unjustly Treated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—(By the A. P.)—The decision of the referee is sufficient for Luis Angel Firpo, and despite the protests of his friends and many spectators of his fight with Jack Dempsey that he was unfairly treated and fouled, he asks nothing more than "another match" with the world's champion.

The true sportsmanship of the Argentine fighter is shown in a statement given by him to the Associated Press, in which he first defends his stand and ends by simply asking for another battle. Dempsey was declared by thousands of spectators not only to have struck Firpo viciously after the call of time and to have disregarded the referee's instructions as to retreating to a neutral corner during a knockdown count, but to have technically lost the fight on a foul when he was assisted by to the ring by reporters, after having been knocked thru the ropes by Firpo in the first round.

Referee Gallagher also is declared to have neglected starting a count until Dempsey had been returned to the ring. Foul is Claimed.

Chairman Muldoon said after the fight had had Firpo's seconds claimed a foul when Dempsey was pushed back into the ring, the state boxing commission would have recognized the claim and declared Firpo the winner. No such claim was made at the time.

Firpo has been urged by his South American admirers and many others to protest against the decision of Referee Gallagher. His statement made to the Associated Press today reads:

"There has been enough discussion on the question of fouls in my match with Jack Dempsey. The charges against Horatio LaValle are unjust because Mr. Muldoon, chairman of the boxing commission assured us that justice would be done for me."

"I have read what Mr. Muldoon has said on the subject of fouls and I appreciate it. I have also read many references by sporting writers to the same matter. But notwithstanding this I want to make one thing perfectly clear: I accept the decision and all I want is another match with Dempsey as soon as my arm is all right and I have had sufficient rest."

A double steal gave the athletics the winning run in the sixth inning of the second game, McGowan scoring while Dykes went to third. STARTLING RESULTS IN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Several Champs and Title Holders Eliminated—Jones' Defeat Causes Biggest Surprise

CHICAGO, Sept. 19. (By the Associated Press)—Two former national amateur title holders and the national open champion, Bobby Jones of Atlanta were eliminated today in the second round of the national championship tournament at Flossmoor, the defeat of Jones by Max Marston of Philadelphia furnished the thrilling upset of a day replete with startling developments.

Jess Sweetser of New York kept in the race to defend his title by overcoming Dave Herron of Chicago, a former title holder 4 and 3 and Bob Gardner of Chicago, twice holder of the crown, ousting Bill Fownes of Pittsburgh, another former champion, 2 and 1. In another close match that kept the crowd on edge for hours, Francis Ouimet of Boston, formerly national open and amateur champion, finally outgolfed Willie Hunter of Los Angeles, formerly premier golfer of Great Britain and won 3 to 2. Another former title holder to survive was Jess Guilford of Boston who had a comparatively easy time in defeating Dexter Cummings of Chicago, intercollegiate champion, 7 and 6.

George Von Elm of Salt Lake City, playing superlative golf at times defeated Jimmy Manion of St. Louis 6 and 5, Joe Wells of East Liverpool, Ohio, ousted H. K. B. Davis of San Francisco 4 and 3, thus removing all the far west contenders except VonElm and Densmore Shute of Huntington, W. Va., eliminating Ned Alis of Milwaukee 6 and 5. The defeat of Jones and that of Evans had tied with Jones for low qualifying score at 149, caused the greatest excitement today, altho the prospects for a time that Hunter would down Ouimet as he had Evans, kept the followers on edge until the Boston golfer by shooting even par on the third, five and three better than perfect golf on the last quarter up to the finish finally disposed of the Briton.

Jones' downfall was all the more impressive because he not only shot a record 70 for the 6,704 yard course in the morning, breaking par by four strokes and adjourning for luncheon two up, but he kept within two strokes of par on the afternoon round only to lose a collection of birdies that netted Marston the advantage.

Made Fine 73
Altho Marston had shot a splendid 73 in the morning few of the hundreds who followed the contest expected anything but a Jones defeat and even the loss of the 25th hole where Bobby took a four to Marston's par three did not change the opinion.

Jones halved the next two holes in par but failed to win the next one when Marston got trapped and went one over perfect figures and was still one up. Then the overthrow of the national open champion took place and he was never able to regain an even keel. Marston unleashed three birdies in a row, making the 357 yard 24th in three and the 126 yard 25th in two. Altho he did not need this for Bobby dropped into the pond and the 335 yard 26th in 3 and the Pennsylvania champion was two up. Marston would have got his fourth straight birdie if Bobby had not laid him a stytle on the 27th to halve in par four.

The Past Noble Grand Club of Rebecca Lodge No. 13 will meet tonight with Mrs. Alice Cummings at the home of Mrs. C. A. Copp, 495 North Church street. A full attendance of members is desired for the election of officers for the ensuing year.

High 1923 90.51; low 79.53
Total bond sales (par value) $,002,000.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.— Stock prices developed moderate strength in today's fairly active market on subsistence of selling pressure in the oil group. Alternate periods of weakness and strength characterized the morning session, but the general list turned unmistakably upward latter under the leadership of the so-called pivotal industrial stocks.

While the view was held in many quarters that the market was entitled to a rally after nearly a week of declining prices, buying today is also reported to have been influenced by private cable dispatches indicating favorable developments in the reparations situation by the statement of Secretary Hoover published by the Financial News tickers that there was no sign of reduction in productivity this fall, and by the statement of H. F. Sinclair expressing the belief that mid-continent crude oil prices had hit bottom, that the peak of California production had been reached and that an early stabilization of the industry should result. A drop in the call money rate to 3 1/2 percent, the lowest this year and a sharp rally in cotton prices which carried all months previous lower were features.

Leading industrial stocks showed a disposition to break away from the depressing effect of pressure on the oil shares. Baltimore and American Locomotives, Studebaker and Gulf States Steel showing net gains of 1 to 1 1/2.
United States Steel rallied to 88 1/2, up 1/2, after selling as low as 87 1/2.
Bethlehem, under pressure in the afternoon was being forced to a new low, but snapping back latter to 48 1/2, or within 1/2 of last night's close. Crucible and Republic closed fractionally higher.

The Iron Age in its weekly review of the industry states that the week has been a quiet one in all departments of the steel market with production of pig-iron and steel showing a further slight reduction. French francs advanced nearly 20 points to 5.91 cents.

German marks jumped from 35 to 85 cents a hundred million.
U. S. government bonds showed little change on the day.

Keeps Your Engine With You

It is never behind your whim. Answer—flexibility and a response so instantaneous as to make the machine seem part of yourself.

Flexibility comes from even vaporization at definite temperatures.

Even vaporization is possible only when there is a perfect chain of boiling point fractions. The chain in Red Crown gasoline is perfect, producing a steady, unbroken flow of power.

Then you'll appreciate Red Crown gasoline. You get the joy of perfect performance — instant starting — a snappy get-away — eager acceleration — sustained pulling power — racing speed if you want it — maximum mileage per gallon.

Red Crown is the year 'round gasoline — it performs with equal efficiency winter or summer — it vaporizes to the last drop. It leaves a minimum of carbon and fouled plugs. These are important features in cold weather driving.
